

Security Policy

Washington's Guaranteed Education Tuition Program is committed to protecting your personal information and will not disclose or share personal information with other parties.

Information Sources

We obtain personal information about our Account Owners and Beneficiaries from the following sources:

- Applications or other forms
- User ID and password creation for online account access
- Account transactions
- Web "cookies" that indicate which parts of our site you've visited. This data helps us provide a better service for GET's Web site visitors.

If you visit <http://www.get.wa.gov> and do not log in to your secure account, we do not obtain any personal information about you. When you do log in to a secure area, we obtain your user ID and password to identify you. We use this information to provide you with the services you have requested. We do not collect personal information through GET's Web site unless you willingly provide it to us, either directly by email or in those areas of the Web site that request information. In order to update your personal information (including your mailing address, email address and telephone number), you must first log in to our secure site.

If you have set your browser to warn you before accepting cookies, you will receive the warning message with each cookie. You can refuse cookies by turning them off in your browser. However, doing so may limit your access to certain sections of GET's Web site. We use cookies to help us improve and manage the Plan's Web site. For example, cookies help us recognize new versus repeat visitors to the site, track the pages visited, and enable some special features on the Web site.

Protection of Information

We do not disclose any individual account information about current or former Account Owners and Designated Beneficiaries to anyone, except as permitted by law.

Consent Required

We will not disclose your personal information to unaffiliated third parties (except as permitted by law), unless you, the person who provides the information or the person who is the subject of the information gives express written consent to such disclosure.

Internet Security

To protect your own privacy, confidential and/or personal information should only be communicated via email when you are advised that you are using a secure Web site. As a security measure, we do not include personal or account information in nonsecure emails, and we advise you not to send such information to us in nonsecure emails. We do not guarantee or warrant that any part of the Plan's Web site, including files available for download, are free of viruses or other harmful code. It is your responsibility to take appropriate precautions, such as use of an antivirus software package, to protect your computer hardware and software.

- All transactions are secured by SSL and 128-bit encryption. The Secure Socket Layer (SSL) uses cryptographic protocols that provide security and data integrity for communications between your computer and our servers.
- You can exit GET's Web site secure area by either closing your browser, or for added security, you can use the log out button before you close your browser.

Other Security Measures

We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your personal account information. Our employees have access to that information only so that they may assist you when responding to your account questions.

How You Can Help

You can also do your part to keep your account information private and to prevent unauthorized transactions. If you obtain a user ID and password for your account, do not allow it to be used by anyone else. Also, take special precautions when accessing your account on a computer used by others.
